A summer missions program where the view is up-close and personal.
If you’re seriously considering whether God wants you to be in full-time missions, then Baptist Mid-Missions’ FirstLook program may be for you.

“The time God gave me in Germany and Romania really opened my eyes to different aspects of missions in Europe and strengthened my desire to serve God wherever He wants to place me.”

— Erica Daily
With FirstLook you discover...

- A wide-open view of the opportunities available to you—find where your skills and gifts best fit.

- A front-row seat to the needs on your mission field—you’ll see missions in terms of real people with real needs that God can use you to meet.

- A good, all-around exposure to missions. You’ll even learn the ins and outs of applying to a mission agency, which will make the process easier if you choose career service.
With FirstLook we carefully arrange trips to keep costs down, which means less support raising for you. Our programs are doctrinally solid too—we pair you with missionaries that have the same Baptist convictions you have.
Qualifications

• Mature Christian character
• Faithful witnessing to the lost
• Active membership in an independent Baptist church
• Practical experience in Christian service
• Openness to the leading of the Lord regarding missionary service

“Now I see missions through the national pastor’s eyes. When it was time to leave, they said, they would have me back in a heartbeat.”
— Aaron Brudtkuhl
Trips normally last from four to six weeks.

What does it cost?
The cost depends on these factors:
- transportation
- passport for international fields (a visa may also be needed)
- weekly living expenses on your field
- spending money
When you receive the application, you’ll also be asked to provide these items:

- two references affirming your character and fitness for missionary service (from your pastor and one other person)
- proper legal documentation and statement of your willingness to receive the required immunizations for the country you will visit.
- proof of medical insurance that will cover you outside the United States (if applicable).
Curious?
Visit our website to find out about specific opportunities; unlisted opportunities may also be available. Just drop us an e-mail or give us a call. We’ll be glad to answer your questions or offer guidance.

Ready to go?
Contact us, and we’ll plug you into a missions experience that can make the best use of your talents and calling—and make an eternal difference for Christ.